

Create the city of tomorrow, today.

Create the city of tomorrow, today.

The City of Surrey is a place of innovative transformation and sustainable growth – where the future is full of opportunities. If you are excited about helping to build the city of tomorrow – and you share our values of integrity, service, teamwork, innovation and community – join us today.

DIVISION MANAGER, LAND DEVELOPMENT

Overseeing the Engineering Land Development Division, you'll focus on managing the municipal infrastructure servicing process necessary to support Land Development and Building Permit projects, as well as internal and external customer services work. Specific responsibilities include: ensuring your team delivers Engineering services for development applications, managing the Design/Service Agreement process and the construction of servicing; working with Senior Management and other Division Managers in support of overall Corporate priorities and initiatives; and attending Council Land Use and Public Hearing meetings.

The successful candidate we seek has a Bachelor's degree in Engineering, P. Eng. designation and a minimum of 10 years' related experience.

The City of Surrey is in the midst of an exciting evolution where innovative transformations are seen every day. We are guided by the vision of vibrant leadership and the integrity of teams dedicated to serving and enhancing the fastest growing community in the region. Recognized as one of BC's top employers for six consecutive years, the City of Surrey offers a future without limitations.

Grow your career where innovation lives.

To apply online, go to our website.
www.surreycareers.ca

integrity | service | teamwork | innovation | community

